Key Drivers²

- Prior committed growth (drop-downs and 3rd party M&A) remains on track
- Levelized RA value expectations and Wildorado extension
- Incorporates refinancing assumptions for '28 CWEN Bonds

Key Assumptions for 2027 Target Range Remain On Track...

- Timing of COD vintages for committed growth projects
- Achievement of base portfolio assumptions including P50 media resource and plant performance across all segments
- Execution of flex gen asset RA contracting and open energy sales at prices consistent with current forward market view
- Refinancing of 2028 corporate bonds at hedged cost of capital
- Future drop-down offers and repowering projects identified by Sponsor, with investment commitments contingent upon review and approval by CWEN's Independent Directors

...With Increasingly Visible Drivers for Growth Beyond 2027

- Full completion of Mt. Storm repowering expected by 2H27 to contribute CAFD at previously disclosed levels starting in 2028
- Goat Mountain expected to contribute to CAFD growth after 2027
- Additional repowerings/drop-downs in the 2027 COD vintage could further improve visibility to CAFDPS growth in 2028+
- Actionable market for complementary 3rd party asset M&A

Execution on Redundant Growth Pathways Reinforces Goal to Meet the Updated 2027 Target Range

Clearway Group Advancing Abundant Pipeline of Investment Opportunities with Redundancy, Resiliency, and Diversification to Meet CWEN Growth Needs

Redundancies in Sponsor-Led Pipeline Support CWEN's Growth

- Top of range includes potential partial year CAFD contribution from committed growth investments, subject to timing of final project completion

CWEN On Track to Meet Updated 2025 Guidance Range

Financial Update

Prudent Growth Funding Plan

Continue to Maintain Balance Sheet Flexibility for Growth

- Assuming CAFD generation aligned with our 2027 CAFD per share target range, we expect to generate $270+ MM of retained CAFD cumulatively between 2025-2027 and to have $600+ MM of debt capacity to fund growth

Beginning to Execute on Plan for Modest Equity Issuances

- Will opportunistically issue modest equity amounts (~0-2% of float annually) at accretive levels to meet/exceed growth targets; plan to issue equity through ATM and DRIP/DSPP¹ to permanently fund committed growth

Base financing plan does not include the option for opportunistic project-level refinancings on unlevered assets as an accretive, alternative source of corporate capital

Reg. G | Non-GAAP Financial Information

Non-GAAP Financial Information

EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA: EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA are non-GAAP financial measures. These measurements are not recognized in accordance with GAAP and should not be viewed as an alternative to GAAP measures of performance. The presentation of Adjusted EBITDA should not be construed as an inference that Clearway Energy's future results will be unaffected by unusual or non-recurring items.

EBITDA represents net income before interest (including loss on debt extinguishment), taxes, depreciation and amortization. EBITDA is presented because Clearway Energy considers it an important supplemental measure of its performance and believes debt and equity holders frequently use EBITDA to analyze operating performance and debt service capacity. EBITDA has limitations as an analytical tool, and you should not consider it in isolation, or as a substitute for analysis of our operating results as reported under GAAP. Some of these limitations are:

- EBITDA does not reflect cash expenditures, or future requirements for capital expenditures, or contractual commitments;
- EBITDA does not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, working capital needs;
- EBITDA does not reflect the significant interest expense, or the cash requirements necessary to service interest or principal payments, on debt or cash income tax payments;
- Although depreciation and amortization are non-cash charges, the assets being depreciated and amortized will often have to be replaced in the future, and EBITDA does not reflect any cash requirements for such replacements; and
- Other companies in this industry may calculate EBITDA differently than Clearway Energy does, limiting its usefulness as a comparative measure.

Because of these limitations, EBITDA should not be considered as a measure of discretionary cash available to use to invest in the growth of Clearway Energy's business. Clearway Energy compensates for these limitations by relying primarily on our GAAP results and using EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA only supplementally.

Adjusted EBITDA is presented as a further supplemental measure of operating performance. Adjusted EBITDA represents EBITDA adjusted for mark-to-market gains or losses, non cash equity compensation expense, asset write offs and impairments; and factors which we do not consider indicative of future operating performance such as transition and integration related costs. The reader is encouraged to evaluate each adjustment and the reasons Clearway Energy considers it appropriate for supplemental analysis. As an analytical tool, Adjusted EBITDA is subject to all of the limitations applicable to EBITDA. In addition, in evaluating Adjusted EBITDA, the reader should be aware that in the future Clearway Energy may incur expenses similar to the adjustments in this presentation.

Management believes Adjusted EBITDA is useful to investors and other users of our financial statements in evaluating our operating performance because it provides them with an additional tool to compare business performance across companies and across periods. This measure is widely used by investors to measure a company's operating performance without regard to items such as interest expense, taxes, depreciation and amortization, which can vary substantially from company to company depending upon accounting methods and book value of assets, capital structure and the method by which assets were acquired.

Additionally, management believes that investors commonly adjust EBITDA information to eliminate the effect of restructuring and other expenses, which vary widely from company to company and impair comparability. As we define it, Adjusted EBITDA represents EBITDA adjusted for the effects of impairment losses, gains or losses on sales, non cash equity compensation expense, dispositions or retirements of assets, any mark-to-market gains or losses from accounting for derivatives, adjustments to exclude gains or losses on the repurchase, modification or extinguishment of debt, and any extraordinary, unusual or non-recurring items plus adjustments to reflect the Adjusted EBITDA from our unconsolidated investments. We adjust for these items in our Adjusted EBITDA as our management believes that these items would distort their ability to efficiently view and assess our core operating trends.

In summary, our management uses Adjusted EBITDA as a measure of operating performance to assist in comparing performance from period to period on a consistent basis and to readily view operating trends, as a measure for planning and forecasting overall expectations and for evaluating actual results against such expectations, and in communications with our Board of Directors, shareholders, creditors, analysts and investors concerning our financial performance.

Cash Available for Distribution: A non-GAAP measure, Cash Available for Distribution is defined as of today's date as Adjusted EBITDA plus cash distributions/return of investment from unconsolidated affiliates, cash contributions from noncontrolling interests, adjustments to reflect sales-type lease cash payments and payments for lease expenses, less cash distributions to noncontrolling interests, maintenance capital expenditures, pro-rata Adjusted EBITDA from unconsolidated affiliates, cash interest paid, income taxes paid, principal amortization of indebtedness, changes in prepaid and accrued capacity payments, and adjusted for development expenses. Management believes CAFD is a relevant supplemental measure of the Company's ability to earn and distribute cash returns to investors. We believe CAFD is useful to investors in evaluating our operating performance because securities analysts and other interested parties use such calculations as a measure of our ability to make quarterly distributions. In addition, CAFD is used by our management team for determining future acquisitions and managing our growth. The GAAP measure most directly comparable to CAFD is cash provided by operating activities.

However, CAFD has limitations as an analytical tool because it does not include changes in operating assets and liabilities and excludes the effect of certain other cash flow items, all of which could have a material effect on our financial condition and results from operations. CAFD is a non-GAAP measure and should not be considered an alternative to cash provided by operating activities or any other performance or liquidity measure determined in accordance with GAAP, nor is it indicative of funds available to fund our cash needs. In addition, our calculations of CAFD are not necessarily comparable to CAFD as calculated by other companies. Investors should not rely on these measures as a substitute for any GAAP measure, including cash provided by operating activities.
